

RICHARD JAMES NUTTALL AND MARY ANN JONES

Richard James Nuttall was born September 19, 1858, in Provo, to William E. Nuttall and Rosamond Watson. He married Mary Ann Jones of Provo on September 2, 1880, in the Endowment House, Daniel H. Wells performing the ceremony.

Richard died January 27, 1923. Mary Ann died July 26, 1883 of childbirth. He married Margaret Jane Syme, daughter of Hugh and Elizabeth Buckley Syme, in the Endowment House, Daniels H. Wells officiating.

Richard Nuttall came to Heber with his parents when six years old. Here he attended school two terms under William Chatwin. His father did not have the means to give the children the education, so they had to strive for that themselves by studying at home and earning what they could for tuition and books. But his father gave him good training in all Church principles.

His first teacher after the family moved to Wallsburg was Juliet Wall. He studied at home under his father's guidance.

To earn money for schooling he learned to be sawyer in his father's sawmill when he was 12. In 1875 he went to Park City to make lagging for the Ontario Mining Co., from which he made $60. He worked wherever he could, many times not receiving wages due him.

His uncle, Joseph Nuttall, suggested he try to attend the Brigham Young Academy and let him board with him, for which he could return work in the spring. With $5 in his pocket for tuition, books, etc., he contacted Professor Maeser, who let him start during the last two terms of the first year. He was admitted to the grammar department. Professor Maeser and the teachers were very kind and efficient instructors, which appealed very much to young Richard. At the end of school he helped his uncle finish his log house. He then went to Cottonwood Canyon to chop logs for the D. H. Wells mill, for which he only received part of his pay. He returned to school, which started his second year. At mid-term Professor Maeser called him to come into the Academic Department and the third term he entered the Normal Department.

970

WALLSBURG BIOGRAPHIES

During Christmas vacation he received the following letter:

Letter of Appointment
Holiness to the Lord
Brigham Young Academy
Provo, December 21, 1877

This is to certify that Brother Richard Nuttall, Normal student, is hereby appointed to labor in the interest of our institution during the Christmas vacation in Provo Valley whenever an opportunity presents itself to him. Authorities of the Church and friends of education are kindly requested to render him all possible aid in the performance of his mission.

For the Board of Directors
A. O. Smoot, President
Karl G. Maeser, Principal

Through his activities he returned to school with several books and specimens of minerals from the mines of Wasatch County.

After two academic terms he received a copy of his discharge from the academy:
Brigham Young Academy
Provo, April 6, 1878

Brother Richard Nuttall, student of the Academic Department for two terms, has been honorably discharged from further attendance at his own request. Cause: has to return home. Brother Nuttall has been a hard-working student and has conducted himself as a gentleman and a Latter-day Saint.

Karl G. Maeser,
Principal, B. Y. A.

971

That summer he worked around home and other places. He was chopping cordwood for Chancy West near Frisco at $1.25 a cord when he bruised his hand badly, and it became so sore he had to come home.

In December, 1878, he was called to teach school in Wallsburg, so he went before the Board of Examiners in Heber City and received his certificate.

(Copy of Certificate)

This is to certify that Richard Nuttall has passed an examination before the Board of Examiners of Wasatch County, Utah Territory, and is herewith recommended as capable of taking charge of a district school in this county, and this certificate to hold good till November, 1879 A. D.

He taught school two terms, which lasted from December 16, 1878, to June 25, 1879, earning $60 for first term and $70 for second. For the first term in the fall of 1879 he received $81.50 for teaching 45 pupils.

School started again on January 11, 1880, but had to be discontinued because of the bad diphtheria epidemic. Tried three times to open the school, but they couldn't. About 20 deaths occurred in Wallsburg in three months. Richard helped with the sick as much as possible.

He worked in the Church also, especially in the Sunday School and YMMIA. He was rebaptized by Elder R. C. Camp and ordained an Elder in the Church by Bishop Francis Kerby and set aside as counselor in the YMMIA. He also worked with the Elders' Quorum in Provo.

After helping his father and William G. Nuttall to load a boiler for the lumber mill and getting it set up in the mill and other work, he married Mary Alice Jones. He had enough cash to buy a stove and a few other things—about $42 and $25 for furniture.

On December 4, 1880, he went to Charleston to teach, receiving $100 for four months. Then he moved to Provo working as a carpenter in the summer and attending school in winter. Taught school at Fairfield and returned to Provo about June 1, 1883. He took two weeks of examinations at the academy and received his diploma with an average of 89 percent, standing ninth among 26 students.

In July, 1883, his wife died, and on August 8, 1883, her baby, Louella Adelaide, followed her in death.

972

HOV

In August, 1884, he bought two lots in the northeast part of Provo for $360 cash and commenced building a four-room house. That winter he taught school in the First Ward in Provo. He finished his house at a cost of $800.

On July 22, 1884, he was rebaptized by George Meldrum and confirmed by A. Watson. On July 24 he married Margaret Jane Syme. He taught three terms of school that winter, lacking a week. He left April 14, 1884, on a mission to Great Britain, on which President John Taylor of the Church called him. Ed Clyde of Heber City was in the same group and Frank Fraughton of Heber and John Martin of Midway for the Southern States Mission.

RICHARD JAMES NUTTALL AND MARY ANN JONES

Richard James Nuttall was born September 19, 1858, in Provo, to William E. Nuttall and Rosamond Watson. He married Mary Ann Jones of Provo on September 2, 1880, in the Endowment House, Daniel H. Wells performing the ceremony.

Richard died January 27, 1923. Mary Ann died July 26, 1883 of childbirth. He married Margaret Jane Syme, daughter of Hugh and Elizabeth Buckley Syme, in the Endowment House, Daniels H. Wells officiating.

Richard Nuttall came to Heber with his parents when six years old. Here he attended school two terms under William Chauwin. His father did not have the means to give the children the education, so they had to strive for that themselves by studying at home and earning what they could for tuition and books. But his father gave him good training in all Church principles.

His first teacher after the family moved to Wallburg was Juliet Wall. He studied at home under his father's guidance.

To earn money for schooling he learned to be sawyer in his father's sawmill when he was 12. In 1875 he went to Park City to make lagging for the Ontario Mining Co., from which he made $60. He worked wherever he could, many times not receiving wages due him.

His uncle, Joseph Nuttall, suggested he try to attend the Brigham Young Academy and let him board with him, for which he could return work in the spring. With $5 in his pocket for tuition, books, etc., he contacted Professor Maeser, who let him start during the last two terms of the first year. He was admitted to the grammar department. Professor Maeser and the teachers were very kind and efficient instructors, which appealed very much to young Richard. At the end of school he helped his uncle finish his log house. He then went to Cottonwood Canyon to chop logs for the D. H. Wells mill, for which he only received part of his pay. He returned to school, which started his second year. At mid-term Professor Maeser called him to come into the Academic Department and the third term he entered the Normal Department.

WALLSBURG BIOGRAPHIES

During Christmas vacation he received the following letter:

Letter of Appointment
Holiness to the Lord
Brigham Young Academy
Provo, December 21, 1877

This is to certify that Brother Richard Nuttall, Normal student, is hereby appointed to labor in the interest of our institution during the Christmas vacation in Provo Valley whenever an opportunity presents itself to him. Authorities of the Church and friends of education are kindly requested to render him all possible aid in the performance of his mission.

For the Board of Directors
A. O. Smoot, President
Karl G. Maeser, Principal

Through his activities he returned to school with several books and specimens of minerals from the mines of Wasatch County.

After two academic terms he received a copy of his discharge from the academy: Brigham Young Academy
Provo, April 6, 1878

Brother Richard Nuttall, student of the Academic Department for two terms, has been honorably discharged from further attendance at his own request. Cause: has to return home. Brother Nuttall has been a hard-working student and has conducted himself as a gentleman and a Latter-day Saint.

Karl G. Maeser,
Principal, B. Y. A.

971

That summer he worked around home and other places. He was chopping cordwood for Chancy West near Prisco at $1.25 a cord when he bruised his hand badly, and it became so sore he had to come home.

In December, 1878, he was called to teach school in Wallburg, so he went before the Board of Examiners in Heber City and received his certificate.

(Copy of Certificate)

This is to certify that Richard Nuttall has passed an examination before the Board of Examiners of Wasatch County, Utah Territory, and is herewith recommended as capable of taking charge of a district school in this county, and this certificate to hold good till November, 1879 A. D.

He taught school two terms, which lasted from December 16, 1878, to June 25, 1879, earning $60 for first term and $70 for second. For the first term in the fall of 1879 he received $81.50 for teaching 45 pupils.

School started again on January 11, 1880, but had to be discontinued because of the bad diphtheria epidemic. Tried three times to open the school, but they couldn't. About 20 deaths occurred in Wallburg in three months. Richard helped with the sick as much as possible.

He worked in the Church also, especially in the Sunday School and YMMIA. He was rebaptized by Elder R. C. Camp and ordained an Elder in the Church by Bishop Francis Kerby and set aside as counselor in the YMMIA. He also worked with the Elders' Quorum in Provo.

After helping his father and William G. Nuttall to load a boiler for the lumber mill and getting it set up in the mill and other work, he married Mary Alice Jones. He had enough cash to buy a stove and a few other things—about $42 and $25 for furniture.

On December 4, 1880, he went to Charleston to teach, receiving $100 for four months. Then he moved to Provo working as a carpenter in the summer and attending school in winter. Taught school at Fairfield and returned to Provo about June 1, 1883. He took two weeks of examinations at the academy and received his diploma with an average of 89 percent, standing ninth among 26 students.

In July, 1883, his wife died, and on August 8, 1883, her baby, Louella Adelaide, followed her in death.

972

HOW

In August, 1884, he bought two lots in the northeast part of Provo for $360 cash and commenced building a four-room house. That winter he taught school in the First Ward in Provo. He finished his house at a cost of $800.

On July 22, 1884, he was rebaptized by George Meldrum and confirmed by A. Watson. On July 24 he married Margaret Jane Syme. He taught three terms of school that winter, lacking a week. He left April 14, 1884, on a mission to Great Britain, on which President John Taylor of the Church called him. Ed Clyde of Heber City was in the same group and Frank Fraughton of Heber and John Martin of Midway for the Southern States Mission.

THOMAS C. NUTTALL.
Son of Leonard John Nuttall and Elizabeth Clarkson. Born Oct. 19, 1862, Provo, Utah. President Elders quorum; Assistant Sunday School Superintendent.

THOMAS C. NUTTALL.
Son of Leonard John Nuttall and Elizabeth Clarkson. Born Oct. 19, 1862, Provo, Utah. President Elders quorum; Assistant Sunday School Superintendent.

NUTTALL, THOMAS C. (son of Leonard John Nuttall and Elizabeth Clarkson). Born Oct. 19, 1862, Provo, Utah. Married Harriet Self Dec. 6, 1883, Salt Lake City (daughter of Anthony and Rebecca Self of England; pioneers 1867). She was born Oct. 27, 1862. Their children: John T. b. Dec. 17, 1886; Blanche b. Sept. 8, 1887, m. Phineas H. Young; Roscoe S. b. Jan. 16, 1891; Clyde b. March 30, 1894, d. infant.
President elders quorum in Pioneer stake; first assistant Sunday school superintendent; Sunday school teacher. President Salt Lake Wire and Iron Works. 1074

NUTTALL, THOMAS C. (son of Leonard John Nuttall and Elizabeth Clarkson). Born Oct. 19, 1862, Provo, Utah. Married Harriet Self Dec. 6, 1883, Salt Lake City (daughter of Anthony and Rebecca Self of England; pioneers 1867). She was born Oct. 27, 1862. Their children: John T. b. Dec. 17, 1886; Blanche b. Sept. 8, 1887, m. Phineas H. Young; Roscoe S. b. Jan. 16, 1891; Clyde b. March 30, 1894, d. infant.
President elders quorum in Pioneer stake; first assistant Sunday school superintendent; Sunday school teacher. President Salt Lake Wire and Iron Works. 1074